Description

Rectangular Venetian mirror with delicate decoration, France, 1930s. This piece features a classic shape and design. The inner mirror is bordered by a 2 cm wide bevel. The 9.5 cm wide frame is decorated with a shell frieze on both the inner and outer edges. Small shells adorn the inner edge, larger ones the outer, and the frame itself is engraved with flowers and vines. The four corner leaves are beautifully crafted with linear engraving, tapering to a point, and are all intact. The mirror's purist appearance and honest signs of age make it a versatile piece. It has no chips, damage, missing pieces, or other flaws, making this mirror precious and authentic. Thanks to its playful and luminous effect, the mirror complements both modern and antique interiors. The mirror is framed in blackened
