Description

Pierre Chapo S24 Chair, year: 1967. The Pierre Chapo S24 chair, designed in 1967, is an iconic example of French modern architecture. It was designed for Dr. Hiroshi Nakajima and showcases the strength of its corner wood joints to ensure rigidity. It is a chair with very clean lines. The leather seat is stretched taut by an ingenious cord weave, and the joints between the seat frame are reinforced with exposed Allen screws. This light and comfortable chair is made of solid elm wood and thick leather, developing a beautiful patina over time.
