Description

This large Napoleon III period mirror is a remarkable piece, distinguished by its elegance and refinement. Crafted from ebonized wood, it features a sumptuously carved frame, enhanced with gilding that highlights a profusion of stylized flowers and Baroque scrolls. The contrast between the deep black of the wood and the golden gleam of the ornamentation lends the whole a prestigious air. The particularly elaborate pediment draws the eye with its symmetrical composition and central coat-of-arms motif, framed by stylized foliage and floral garlands. Square cabochons, reminiscent of precious stones, punctuate the frame at regular intervals, adding a touch of luxury. This mirror perfectly embodies the eclectic taste of the Second Empire, blending Neo-Baroque and Rococo influences in
