Description

This coffee table brilliantly embodies the sophisticated aesthetic of the 1930s Art Deco movement. Partially crafted with rosewood veneer, a precious wood renowned for its rich color and deep grain, it captivates with its understated yet elegant appearance. Oval in shape, it rests on four fluted legs reminiscent of classic columns, while maintaining the clean lines typical of Art Deco. These legs terminate in bullet-shaped finials and support two tabletops, offering a functional double surface without compromising the design's elegance. Ideal as a side table, it adds a touch of character to any interior. Its timeless silhouette makes it a centerpiece in a living room, office, or library. Period: 1930. Excellent condition after restoration in our cabinetmaking workshop. Delivery
