Description

This beautiful Restoration period clock, circa 1820-1830, made of Siena marble and patinated bronze, is in excellent overall condition. It works perfectly, striking the hours and half-hours with a pleasant, non-intrusive chime. Minor flaws: the numerals on the dial are partially faded, and there are four tiny chips on the marble (blue arrows). These are very discreet and inconsequential, but I prefer to mention them. The key is not original, but it fits perfectly. Base dimensions: 18.8 x 11.9 cm. Maximum height: 39.5 cm. Shipping with invoice, fast, careful, and very secure.
