Description

Large French wardrobe with two doors from the late 18th century (late 1700s), crafted in solid walnut wood, a fine example of authentic Provençal taste and craftsmanship. The structure is solid and well-proportioned, featuring impressive raised panel doors that add depth and elegant movement to the front. The upper section is highlighted by a large shaped cornice, a distinctive decorative element that enhances the wardrobe's refined and imposing appearance. The lower part ends with elegant onion-shaped feet, a typical detail of French furniture production of the period, adding further charm and authenticity to the overall design. Origin: France Period: Late 18th Century (Late 1700s) Style: Provençal Dimensions: 183 x 74 x 262 H cm
