

PROANTIC

LE PLUS BEAU CATALOGUE D'ANTIQUITES

Ancient Egyptian Necklace, Late Period/ptolemaic - Faience Scarabs & Djed Pillar Amulet

850 EUR

Period : Before 16th century

Condition : Etat d'usage

Material : Earthenware

Diameter : 14 cm

Description

Necklace composed of tubular, circular, and discoidal beads in turquoise blue faience, punctuated by six miniature scarabs, one of which bears an inscription on its reverse, and centered with an amulet depicting a Djed pillar. The piece is distinguished by the harmony of its proportions and the sustained brilliance of the glaze. Necklace made up of older elements assembled later.

Turquoise blue glazed faience, slight surface wear, signs of age, see photos. Egypt, Late Period and Ptolemaic Period (c. 664-332 BC / 332-30 BC). Dimensions: Diameter: approx. 14 cm. Djed pillar: 2.6 cm. Scarabs: approx. 1.1 to 1.2 cm.

Provenance: Formerly in the collection of Madame X, Paris, after inheritance; Collection assembled from the first half of the 20th century and enriched until the 1970s. (The collector's full

Dealer

GALERIE OCARINA

Art précolombien, Archéologie, Arts premiers

Mobile : 0630229738

15 grand rue

Issigeac 24560

identity will be provided to the buyer on the certificate of authenticity). Sold with a certificate of authenticity from the expert Serge Reynes. Guarantee of origin and period. And invoice from the Ocarina Gallery.* Shipping costs upon request via DHL. "The quintessential Osirian amulet, the Djed pillar embodies stability and regeneration; associated with Osiris, it frequently accompanies protective scarabs, worn as personal talismans. This type of adornment, both radiant and laden with meaning, extends into daily life an essential idea of ancient Egypt: protection, strength, and immortality."