Description

Former stoup in regulating Art Deco of Notre Dame de Lourdes early 20th century. The beauty of Christian religious art in France, characterized by Art Deco geometry: this is what defines this former stoup in the regulation representing the holy places of the city of Lourdes, known for its Marian apparition of 1858. The Art Deco period extended from 1910 to 1939, it is characterized by a taste for symmetry, sophisticated geometry. In its center, one can see in bas-relief the basilica of Lourdes, the cave where the Virgin would have appeared to Saint Bernadette, and Saint Bernadette kneeling. The hook on its back allows it to be placed on the wall both outdoors and indoors! Fast & neat shipping in France, Europe & worldwide. Dimensions: Height: 32
