

Glazed Earthenware Dish With A Central Boss, From The Gard Region, Vauvert, 18th Century, Folk A

950 EUR

Period : 18th century

Condition : Restauré

Material : Terracotta

Diameter : 38 cm

Description

A glazed earthenware dish with a central dome from Vauvert, Gard, 18th century. The decoration is nail-engraved and includes a flowerpot with a flowering tree, flowers, a star, a heart, a glass, and the inscriptions: "Bonne appety," "Boj" (?), "Brunel Brunelle." The central dome is formed by a raised ring. The rim is doubly scalloped. There is an original hole in the rim. Three small chips on the rim and an old repair using four twisted wires. The attribution to Vauvert and the date refer to a dish by the same hand, located and dated 1733, by François Gautier (see photo). In used condition. Weight: 1.84 kg

Dealer

Les Couloirs du Temps - Samuel Collin
Folk Art and Popular Traditions, Regionalism, Curiosity
Tel : 06 81 53 21 70
Mobile : 06 70 45 88 65

Impasse des Ventes
Mézières-en-Drouais 28500