Description

Nilo Veca for Fontana Arte: Vintage design pendant light in green smoked glass & chrome metal - 1970s. A superb vintage Italian pendant light with a sculptural design, composed of green smoked glass panels mounted on a chromed metal frame. An iconic model of the 1970s Space Age style. General description: This pendant light is distinguished by its geometric and airy composition: It consists of several oval discs and panels of thick, slightly green-tinted glass, arranged vertically around a central axis. The elements are fixed to a tubular chromed metal frame, creating a particularly decorative interplay of transparency, reflections, and overlapping. The central cylindrical diffuser houses the bulb and diffuses a soft light filtered through the glass panels. The entire piece is suspended by a metal
