Description

A Masterpiece of Viennese Design: Elegance by Josef Hoffmann If you are looking for a piece that embodies the perfection of 20th-century design, this amber blown glass bowl is an unmissable opportunity. Attributed to the renowned master Josef Hoffmann for the Wiener Werkstätte (circa 1915-1920), this work represents the sublime balance between avant-garde craftsmanship and formal rigor. The bowl stands out for its refined ribbed texture that catches and refracts light, enhancing the warm amber hue of the glass. The chromatic contrast is defined by sumptuous black glass paste handles, a distinctive detail that gives the piece a modern and sculptural character. With a diameter of 25 cm (34 cm including handles) and a height of 7 cm, the object is in excellent condition, ready to enrich the most prestigious
