750 EUR

Period : 19th century

Condition : Très bon état

Material : Glass paste

Height : 33

Description

An elegant, acid-etched, multi-layered glass vase signed Abel Combe Paris, circa 1900. It features a beautiful gradient of chartreuse yellow tones, fading into amber and pink hues. The relief decoration, inspired by Louis XVI neoclassical motifs (garlands, ribbons, and stylized floral designs), is finely etched, creating depth and contrast. The original bronze mount consists of two distinct elements: an upper band highlighting the neck and a finely chased, independent circular base. Height: 33 cm.
