Description

A beautiful antique fireplace crafted from Carrara white marble, dating from the late 19th century. This model, often called a quarter-round fireplace due to its rounded jambs, features a lovely sculpted frieze of an olive branch and rosettes at the ends. The fireplace is currently being cleaned and restored in our workshops. It will be sold with a modern white aluminum interior and a fire screen. A custom-made fireback can be created, subject to marble availability, at an additional cost.
