Description

Maison Lecan presents this superb French farmhouse table dating from 1890, an authentic piece that embodies rustic elegance and traditional craftsmanship. Noble material and character: Made entirely of solid oak, this table stands the test of time with distinction. Its particularly thick top reveals a rich and nuanced grain, beautifully marked by its history. The entire piece has been carefully protected with a professional satin varnish finish that enhances the deep hues of the wood while guaranteeing worry-free daily use. Robust and functional design: Resting on a solid base with a stretcher that provides exceptional stability, this table was designed to last. It is equipped with two large drawers on the front, adorned with metal shell handles, perfect for storing cutlery or table linens.
