Description

China, Large Circular Porcelain Basin, Famille Rose, 19th Century. Superb circular porcelain basin from China, Qing Dynasty, Famille Rose, dating from the late 19th century. This large circular basin is made of porcelain with polychrome glazes and gilt highlights. It features a lovely interior decorated with birds, butterflies, flowering shrubs, and fruit. The rim is adorned with floral cartouches. The exterior is also decorated with floral motifs. A very beautiful decorative object with refined lines, this basin can serve as a decorative centerpiece on a table, or be displayed on furniture or in a glass cabinet. This richly decorated and delicately crafted piece will easily complement your interior. This basin embodies the elegance of 19th-century Chinese art objects. Chinese work, Famille Rose, late 19th
