"Halley" mark in red iron Dimensions: D. 21.5 (cm.) Paris, circa 1800 Includes 18 dessert plates and two shell-shaped fruit bowls with vine leaf motif. Halley's workshop [RdPdG] Charles Halley began his career as a potter on Rue Montmartre in Paris. He appears in almanacs from 1793 onwards. In 1803, he was cited in a notarial deed as a potter and porcelain merchant. His workshop decorated white porcelain from the Locré and Nast workshops, among others. In 1811, Charles Halley married his daughter to the son of Lebon, a merchant of crystal, earthenware, and porcelain. The partnership formed Halley Lebon, which was in use from this period until
