Description

Monkeys in a Flemish Inn, 19th Century Oil on Panel. An amusing scene of monkey business in the 19th-century style. An anthropomorphic painting depicting a scene of monkey business: three monkeys seated at a table in an inn, dressed in clothing inspired by the Flemish Renaissance and in a setting reminiscent of Teniers' paintings, are busy conversing. The details are truly beautifully executed: the typical northern glasses, as well as the tankard, the clothing and furniture, the very human attitude in the depiction of the three monkeys, etc. Signed Carpentero in the lower right. It bears a brass plaque with dates that do not correspond. The frame is made of wood and stucco, regilded with bronze, with some minor damage to the frame. An amusing monkey business from the second half of the 19th century.
