Description

Large frame made of natural birch bark, a popular craft tradition characteristic of Northern Europe and the Alpine regions, very fashionable in the 19th century in bourgeois interiors seeking rustic authenticity. The organic texture of the bark, its irregular reliefs, and its natural knots give each piece a truly unique character. This one shows the honest marks of time--a few imperfections and losses--which fully contribute to its charm and authenticity. Its generous size is suitable for framing a work of art, a mirror, or for displaying as a decorative object in its own right. External dimensions: H. 97.5 cm × W. 74.5 cm × D. 6 cm -- Internal dimensions: H. 69.5 cm × W. 46.5 cm
