Description

Preparatory study on brown laid paper for the "Massacre of the Innocents," a Baroque drawing from the very beginning of the 19th century, executed in black pencil with white chalk highlights. A violent and realistic scene, this beautiful drawing foreshadows a painted work. The confident lines and deliberate composition of this well-known and frequently depicted scene are evident. I place it at the very beginning of the 19th century and within the French school; a high-quality drawing and an accomplished work in good condition, highly realistic.
