Description

Beautiful 19th-century oil on cardboard. Typical of the "Troubadour" style. It depicts an armed soldier, a woman, and her child seated on the steps of a castle interior. It is in good condition, with some craquelure towards the upper right, and would benefit from a good cleaning. It is presented in a very beautiful original frame, though a few beads are missing. I have not removed the painting from its frame, but it appears to be unsigned. Dimensions of the painting alone: 26 cm x 20 cm. With the frame: 38 cm x 32 cm.
