Description

Extraordinary pair of terracotta sculptural elements, approximately 71 cm high, signed and dated on the side with the inscription "1866 W. Wolff".

The sculptures depict two seated male figures, rendered with great naturalism and expressive richness, set within a decorative architectural structure resting on a foliated capital base.

The modeling is of very high quality, with finely executed details in the faces, drapery, and symbolic elements.

Clear symbolic references of Masonic inspiration are present, giving the ensemble strong iconographic and cultural significance, as well as notable historical interest.

Unique works of great character, highly distinctive and rarely found on the market. Rare
