Description

An exceptional Art Nouveau necklace, crafted around 1900 in yellow gold and weighing 28.4 grams. Its ingenious design allows it to be transformed into a bracelet, offering versatility and elegance to the wearer. The piece is adorned with sapphires and diamonds, whose brilliance accentuates the fluid, organic lines characteristic of the Art Nouveau movement, inspired by nature and movement. A rare and refined piece, a testament to the jewelry-making expertise of the turn of the 20th century, both artistic and functional.
