Description

A remarkable piece of curiosity, notable for its mineral power and authentic "Volcanic Ochre" hues. This authentic refractory clay crucible bears the marks of fire: a spectacular crystallization of slag creating tormented reliefs that testify to its industrial use for melting metals. Its unique appearance offers deep graphite nuances with iridescent reflections and amber vitrified drips, evoking volcanic material. A true raw sculpture, ideal as a small planter or candle holder. Unique piece. A remarkable piece of curiosity, notable for its mineral power and authentic metallic hues.
