Small painting, signed lower right by Salvatore Petruolo, depicting a horse-drawn carriage with two figures aboard, set in a simple, minimalist landscape. The scene, rendered with a rapid, vibrant touch, conveys the movement and everyday life characteristic of genre painting between the late 19th and early 20th centuries.

The work is distinguished by its light composition and the skillful use of muted tones, creating a bright, airy atmosphere. The horse, depicted frontally, becomes the focal point of the scene, while the figures on the carriage are depicted with succinct yet expressive brushstrokes.
