Description

This work is an ethnographic portrait by the Malagasy artist H. Rakotomalala, active in the mid-20th century (primarily between 1950 and 1970). He is known for his portraits and scenes of Malagasy life, accurately capturing traditional hairstyles and features.* Technique: The artist worked extensively in watercolor.* Style: In the 1960s and 1970s, these works were often acquired by travelers or expatriates in Madagascar during that period.* Condition: There are slight foxing spots (small brown patches) due to the humidity or acidity of the paper, which is very common for works from tropical areas of that era.
