

Butterfly Needle Case, Victorian Era, 1871, By W. Avery & Son/redditch, 19th Century

490 EUR

Signature : W.AVERY & SON

Period : 19th century

Condition : Bon état

Material : Brass

Length : 12,5cm

Height : 6,5cm

Description

Superb and Rare Collectible Gilt Brass Needle Case made by the prestigious English manufacturer W. AVERY & SON in REDDITCH/19th Century/Victorian Period 1871. This naturalist model depicting a butterfly is an emblematic piece of Victorian craftsmanship. This "Butterfly" model was registered and patented on August 4, 1871 (historical register included with the sale). Signature: The complete original marking is legible under the wings: "W. AVERY & SON REDDITCH," where there are four delicately concealed pockets, each perfectly sized for a packet of sewing needles. In perfect condition. Original patina (easy to clean if needed). Note: the original antennae are missing, but this does not detract from the charm of this unique object. Dimensions: Length: 12.5 cm

Dealer

Odorantiques

Antiquites Objets Choisis

Saint-Hymer 14130

Height: 6.5 cm Weight: 25 g SHIPPING EXTRA.

All our object carry with them the traces of their history