Description

The work shown is an oil on canvas depicting the childhood of Zeus or Jupiter, attributed to the Flemish painter Jacob Jordanes, dating back to the early 17th century. The painting illustrates an episode from Greek mythology set on the island of Crete (according to the myth), in which Zeus's newborn son was hidden from his father, Cronus, who intended to devour him. The child was entrusted to the care of a goat and other mythological figures. The original work is housed at the Louvre Museum in Paris. Dating back to the early 19th century, with a contemporary frame. Dimensions: W 150 x 119 cm / Canvas 134 x 99 cm Authenticity is certified. A sales invoice will be issued.
