Description

A fine early period bronze candlestick, cast and turned on a lathe, France, late 16th century. A beautiful "column" model on a circular base with a finely molded profile, terminating in a tall, ringed socket pierced with a slightly ovoid window for cleaning wax residue. The entire piece is assembled by riveting; all in very good condition. A classic French Renaissance candlestick, interesting and rather rare due to its short column and fine craftsmanship. Note: Shipping available within France via Colissimo tracked service: EUR20. Other destinations upon request.
