Description

A rare and large curved cast iron balcony or railing in the Napoleon III style, in very good condition, from the Lyon region. Cast at the Salin & Cie forges in Dammarie-sur-Saulx & Écurey in the Meuse department, starting in 1894, whose metallurgical activity dates back to 1188. This model is referenced in the 1897-1898 commercial catalog of the Dammarie & Écurey factories, "Art and Ornamental Cast Iron," under the reference "Large Curved Balcony," no. 402, pp. 420 and 421, "weight approx. 31 kg/m." See our last two photos. It consists of four elements with a basket of fruit and cascading garlands of flowers, within a cartouche encircled by palm fronds flanked by a series of scrolls ending in acanthus leaves and finials. The central panel is composed of a series of motifs, known as "extensions," embellished
