Description

An antique Arab Jambiya dagger, dating to the late 19th or early 20th century. The piece features a traditional curved scabbard and a T-shaped hilt, both encased in white metal with detailed repoussé and chased geometric patterns. The scabbard terminates in a characteristic flared chape. The dagger is professionally mounted in a wooden shadow-box frame against a patterned textile backing with horizontal bands of red, black, and yellow geometric motifs. The frame includes a dark mat board. This item is presented as a decorative display piece. Approximate Frame Dimensions H: 46 x 59 cm Dagger: L 33 x 16 cm
