

Dish Decorated With A Sunburst And Gothic Interlacing - 17th Century Pewter - Germanic?

250 EUR

Period : 17th century

Condition : Bon état

Material : Tin

Diameter : 31,7

Height : 3,3

Description

This dish features an anthropomorphic sunburst design in the center, within Gothic-style interlacing patterns, embellished with foliage. There is wear and scratches from knives and forks. This archaic Gothic rosette design is found in German-speaking regions until the end of the 17th century. A decoration of engraved triangular compartments on the rim adds to the overall elegance. In good condition - there are no hallmarks. It has been polished.

Dealer

Cabinet des curieux

Cabinet of Curiosities

Tel : 0144830957

Mobile : 0613747892

12 Passage Verdeau

Paris 75009