Description

Impressive large French two-body bookcase from the second half of the 19th century, crafted in solid oak. The upper section features three glazed doors, ideal for displaying books or collectibles, while the lower section is composed of three solid panel doors providing generous enclosed storage. The architectural proportions and sturdy oak structure reflect the quality craftsmanship typical of late 19th-century French furniture. A statement antique piece, perfect for libraries, studies, or refined interiors seeking authenticity and presence.
