Description

Neoclassical coffee table attributed to Maison Jansen, swan neck base, 1940s. This elegant coffee table, in the neoclassical style, combines a rectangular glass top with a gilt metal base. The swan neck base, with its delicate curves, is connected by a central stretcher, lending lightness and balance. The ends are stylized feet, and decorative rings beneath the top add a refined, designer touch. The glass reveals the structure and highlights the lines, making it perfect for a classic chic living room or a more contemporary setting.
