Description

Empire Period Mirror in Gilt and Blackened Wood - Shell Pediment - 19th Century. Superb Empire period mirror in light wood (burl/maple) adorned with blackened columns and rich carved and gilded wood ornaments. Description: This mirror is distinguished by its elegant neoclassical architecture: Two black cylindrical side columns, topped with finely carved gilt capitals. The pediment is decorated with a large stylized shell framed by scrolls, entirely gilded with gold leaf. The lower section is decorated with a floral and vegetal motif in relief, also gilded. The contrasting black background highlights the carved elements. The whole offers a refined contrast between the satiny light wood, the deep black, and the gilding, typical of the Empire style of the early 19th century. The antique mirror has
