

Engraved Glass Ewer - Early 19th Century

150 EUR

Period : 19th century

Condition : Bon état

Material : Glass

Height : 25 cm

Description

An elegant, finely engraved, blown glass ewer dating from the early 19th century. The piece features a beautiful globular body resting on a circular foot, surmounted by a slender neck with a flared lip. The gracefully curved handle, ending in a delicate scroll, was applied while hot. The rich and refined decoration is entirely wheel-cut. It comprises foliate scrolls, crosshatching, geometric friezes, and an ornamental central cartouche. The exquisitely executed engraving subtly plays with the transparency of the glass and captures the light with elegance. The piece perfectly illustrates the decorative taste of the early 19th century, still imbued with classical tradition while foreshadowing the ornamental virtuosity of the Romantic period. The clear glass is of good quality and shows a light patina from

Dealer

Thomas Chabolle Antiquités

Arts décoratifs - Beaux arts

Tel : 06 76 84 42 89

Marché Paul Bert - Stand 160 allée 4 - 110 rue des Rosiers
Saint-Ouen 93400

use. It is in good overall condition, with no apparent cracks or chips. Period: early 19th century. Material: blown and wheel-engraved glass. Height: 25 cm. A refined piece, ideal for a collection of antique glassware or to enhance an elegant Empire or Restoration style table.