Description

? Pair of Cabriolet Armchairs - Classic Elegance and Japanese-Inspired Upholstery ? A pair of cabriolet armchairs with timeless charm. These elegant seats echo the soft, curved lines of Louis XV furniture, with their enveloping, curved backs and delicately cabriole legs. Their light and balanced silhouette makes them as decorative as they are comfortable. A complete restoration carried out by our workshop. The seat and back have been entirely reupholstered, offering optimal comfort and a high-quality finish. The upholstery work is highlighted by a row of upholstery tacks that finely outline the contours of the armchair. A spectacular fabric inspired by Japanese textile art. The back is covered in a superb textile depicting stylized cranes and flowers, emblematic motifs of Japanese culture where the crane symbolizes longevity and harmony. The seat, in textured deep red velvet, adds warmth and contrast while enhancing the overall elegance. A gently patinated wooden frame. The wood has a light, satiny patina that highlights the curved lines of the armrests and legs. The overall effect creates a subtle dialogue between classic French furniture and contemporary decorative aesthetics. In a living room, bedroom, or office, these armchairs will instantly become statement pieces in your décor. They can frame a console table, complement a coffee table, or create a reading nook full of character. ? A rare and distinctive pair, where the charm of antique furniture meets refined contemporary upholstery.
