Description

Antique cut-crystal liqueur decanter dating from the second half of the 19th century.

The body and the neck are cut with faceted panels.

The base is fully engraved with a radiant star.

The neck is enriched with two decorative collars, typical of the fine glassmaking of that period.

The decanter comes with its original stopper, a flattened mushroom shape, also faceted to harmonize with the decoration of the body.

Good overall condition, with only a very slight internal surface haze, consistent with age and use.
