Description

Italian Design Floor Lamp - 1960s. A superb Italian floor lamp from the 1960s, emblematic of the modernist design of that period, combining elegant lines and quality materials. The structure consists of a solid and stable marble base, which gives the whole a beautiful sculptural presence. From this base rise two elegantly articulated, arched arms in chromed metal, forming a fluid and dynamic line characteristic of Italian design of the time. The floor lamp is topped with its original lampshade, in very good condition, with a soft and balanced shape, diffusing a pleasant and warm light. The combination of marble, chrome, and this lampshade creates a refined yet strikingly graphic ensemble. This piece perfectly illustrates the formal experimentation and modernity of Italian design in the 1960s, a period
