Important antique patchwork of embroidered and assembled Indian silks and cotton - 193 cm x 196 cm - Very good condition - 19th century - Fresh colors - 25 fabric squares, shapes & colors - Rare piece # more photos or video available upon request. The history of textiles in India is one of the oldest in the world. The diversity of its craftsmanship testifies to extensive know-how, perpetuated by weavers, printers, painters, dyers, and embroiderers. A multitude of different traditional fabrics exist, varying according to region, ethnicity, religion, ritual, social rank, or marital status. This patchwork of materials and colors perfectly illustrates the cultural richness of a country that, it should be remembered, is currently one of the world's largest textile producers. Dimensions: 193 cm (76") x 196 cm
