Description

French school, 19th century Landscape with a Citadel
Pen and ink, watercolor and heightenings of white gouache on brown paper
18 x 29.5 cm
In good condition, some stains and traces of rubbings on the right border (see photographs please)
In a nice modern frame : 40 x 52 cm (small areas of gilding missing, particularly in the upper left corner)
This view of a citadel or fortified village, probably in Italy, is full of mystery. It is from a very good hand, not yet identified, the mastery of the pen and ink reveals in any case a real artistic personality. The atmosphere is also intriguing, twilight and romantic.
