Description

Vintage 1970s Jean Lurçat (1892-1966) Limoges Plate. This collectible and commemorative plate by Jean Lurçat, made in Limoges, features a white enameled background that beautifully showcases the surrealist illustration of a rooster, the symbol of the French Republic, at its center. A communist activist, Lurçat is known for both his left-wing stances and his art. A painter, ceramicist, and tapestry designer, Jean Lurçat's world is expressed in various forms and formats, much to the delight of surrealism enthusiasts, who appreciate dreamlike figures often rendered in polychrome. In very good overall condition, this plate is ideally suited for decoration or collecting. There's nothing stopping you from using it as a regular plate, but this may damage the central design over time. Fast and careful
