Description

An exceptional Art Deco cachepot from the Boch La Louvière factory, designed in the spirit of the work of Charles Catteau (1880-1966), a major figure in Belgian ceramic design and the undisputed master of the Art Deco style. The piece features a generous and harmonious silhouette, enlivened by a superb deep black decoration punctuated with strikingly modern silver lines--a graphic vocabulary typical of the aesthetic developed by Catteau in the 1920s and 30s. The piece is stamped and numbered in relief, attesting to its careful and rare production. Its generous dimensions (23 cm x Ø 30 cm) give it a truly sculptural presence, ideal for housing a large plant or displayed on its own as a decorative art object. Its condition is remarkable: no chips, no cracks, no restoration, which is exceptional for a
