Description

A large midcentury coffee table with a decidedly modern style. Made in France in the 1960s in the Baguès style, it features a naturalistic brass frame of exceptional quality, with exquisitely detailed features. The stretcher is an elegant cross composed of two rods joined by a brass clasp. See all our photos. The mirrored glass top completes this classic design. Pictured with this month's issue of World of Interiors to give you an idea of its size. This coffee table is ideal for displaying your most treasured coffee table books.
