Description

Elegant double-sided Empire-style desk made of mahogany veneer, dating from the 20th century. It rests on four tapered legs joined by an X-shaped stretcher, accented with bronze rings. The front features three drawers, the central one adorned with a keyhole escutcheon and a beautiful chased bronze mount. The side drawers also have bronze keyhole escutcheons. The desk is fully finished on all sides, allowing for a centerpiece display. The top is fitted with pull-out slides (25cm each) on either side, practical for extending the work surface. Havana leather upholstery in used condition. An elegant piece with clean lines, inspired by late 18th-century furniture. Three keys are included, and the locks are functional. Very good condition, with a beautiful mahogany patina. Delivery within
