Description

We present an important Art Nouveau lamp signed Devez, circa 1910. This very rare model, of considerable size, features a continuous lakeside mountain landscape and is embellished, as was common at the time, with a naturalistic berry-bearing plant motif. This floral decoration extends from the top of the globe down to the base, where the Devez signature is located. The gradient blue landscape and the green foliage lend this piece a certain delicacy. The entire piece is acid-etched and then finished with a grinding wheel. This very rare model is destined for the display case of a discerning collector. There are two scratches on the base. The mount is original. More photos are available upon request.
