Description

Authentic mid-19th century (circa 1850) trebuchet-type precision balance, mounted on its original solid oak case with a drawer. The brass instrument features a functional locking lever and a beam signed with the maker's initials "MC". Both pans display a rich array of hallmarks, including the crowned letter known as the "good faith" mark. The entire piece retains a superb original patina and its internal weight block. A high-quality scientific piece, ideal for a jewelry workshop, a cabinet of curiosities, or a collection of antique measuring instruments. Sold with two weights; several weights are missing from the inside. Free shipping within Metropolitan France and Corsica. Careful packaging. Tracked shipping within 24/48 hours. Payment accepted by credit card, bank transfer, or PayPal. EUR480
