Description

This delicate portrait depicts a young woman elegantly dressed in a pale blue gown with puffed sleeves, characteristic of the romantic fashion of the 1830s. She wears a floral embroidered scarf tied around her neck, adding a touch of color to the ensemble. The face is rendered with great softness, typical of pastel work, while certain details--notably the fabrics and accessories--are subtly enhanced with gouache to accentuate the richness of the textures. The pastel and gouache is signed lower left by Léon Noël, a draftsman, painter, and primarily lithographer, born in Paris in 1807 and died in the same city in 1884. A later inscription on the back reads "the artist's sister-in-law." Note the beautiful restored frame with some minor losses. Shipping within France: EUR20. Shipping within Europe: EUR40. For all
