Description

Louis XV Provençal Walnut Bonnetière - 18th Century. An elegant Louis XV period Provençal bonnetière, crafted from solid walnut, a regional piece from the 18th century. It opens with a molded and shaped door, richly decorated with a carved panel featuring the flowing lines typical of the Louis XV style. The lower rail is adorned with a carved shell, an emblematic motif of Provençal furniture from this period. The piece rests on snail feet and features a projecting molded cornice that harmoniously accentuates its silhouette. The bronze hardware and keyhole escutcheon are original. The interior features three shelves, providing practical storage space. The walnut has a beautiful patina, making this an authentic piece with regional charm, ideal for classic or country chic décor.
