Description

Domestic Scene Engraved on Glass with Silver Leaf, France or Italy, Late 19th Century A refined glass panel entirely covered in silver leaf and engraved with a burin, depicting a lively genre scene of Flemish inspiration. The engraved silver leaf surface creates an iridescent light effect, with refined tonal variations created by the patina and the hand engraving. The work is protected by glass and mounted in an ornate carved and gold-leafed wooden frame, in the 19th-century rocaille style. Technique: Burin engraving on glass covered in silver leaf Frame: Carved and gold-leafed wood A decorative work with a striking luminous effect and antique charm.
