295 EUR

Period : 19th century

Condition : Etat d'usage

Material : Solid wood

Height : 19 cm

Description

Antique Himalayan carved wooden drinking vessel from the Nepal / Tibet region, dating to the 19th century.

The vessel is carved from a single block of hardwood and stands 19 cm in height. It has a tall cylindrical form with slightly faceted sides and a solid integral handle. The exterior is decorated with bands of geometric carving including chevrons, triangular motifs and braided patterns arranged in panels around the body.

This is a particularly fine antique example. The vessel displays a wonderful deep patina from long use, especially around the handle where the wood has developed a rich, glossy surface from generations of handling. The carved decoration remains crisp while the high points show gentle wear consistent with age and authentic use.
